

AI-Driven Video Intelligence

See more. Know more. Do more.

Solink unifies your video, data, and operational systems into a single AI-driven intelligence platform. We help you see more and act faster—turning passive footage into real-time insights that protect your people, slash shrink, and automate your most tedious operational tasks.

Solink Platform

Connects video, data and AI to improve security and operational performance at scale

See more.

Identify only the most important events through a consolidated view of existing video and data.

Know more.

Drive confident decisions by automatically validating events with all connected sources.

Do more.

Accelerate time-to-action with real-time alerts that guide your response.
